

Mohammad Dehghan

About me

I am interested in system thinking, I am a negotiator, risktaker, adventurous and creative, I am quite flexible, and I love learning and teaching, and I am also interested in teamwork. I like participating in international exhibitions around the world. I would like to have passive income in the future. I have been very much creative in problemsolving strategies and providing solutions. I have been teaching English for over 22 years (from the age of 16 I'd say). And I know Business English at a very good level and I am familiar with the concepts of international trade.

My friends and colleagues praise me for my simplicity, honesty, creativity, experience, dynamism, and stability in my personality and interaction with people in many fields, and for having strong communication network.
